

ABOUT THE 3RP

What is the Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan?

The 3RP is a strategic, coordination, planning, advocacy, fundraising, and programming platform for humanitarian and development partners to respond to the Syria crisis. It comprises one regional plan, with five standalone country chapters covering Turkey, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq, and Egypt.

Who is the 3RP?

The Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan is a platform which consists of over 160 implementing partners. You can find the list of implementing partners here.

Who is leading the 3RP?

The 3RP is co-lead by UNHCR and UNDP.

Why does the 3RP exist?

The Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan has been created in response to the Syria Crisis. Now into its seventh year, the 3RP has led the way in terms of the international community's support to national efforts to deal with the impact of the crisis. The 3RP has been at the forefront of many policy and programmatic innovations including support to national and local systems, using technology to increase efficiency and effectiveness, and supporting the self-reliance of refugees and host communities. (Timeline)

Since when does the 3RP exist?

The 3RP has been launched in December 2014.

What happened before 2014?

The predecessor of the 3RP is the Regional Response Plan (RRP). The first RRP for Syrian refugees in Turkey, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq and Egypt was launched in December 2012. (Timeline)

Whom does the plan target?

The plan targets Syrian refugees and vulnerable host community members.

How does the 3RP work as a mechanism?

You can find details on the 3RP as a mechanism here.

Does the 3RP have several components?

The 3RP consists of two components, the refugee component and the resilience component.

What is the overarching frame for the 3RP?

It is to promote resilience for all, guided by the principle that 'no one is left behind'. From there, the regional strategic directions set the overall high-level parameters for the regional response and articulate the impact which 3RP partners strive to make.

How can promoting resilience for all / the principle of 'leaving no one behind' be achieved?

Four Strategic Directions have been identified which are focused on the impact the 3RP seeks to make against the immediate and longer-term needs. Those four strategic directions are:

1. Protecting People
2. Pursuing Durable Solutions
3. Supporting Dignified Lives
4. Enhancing National and Local Capacities

You can learn more about the Strategic Directions here.

What are "Durable Solutions"? They are using the same branding and visuals as the 3RP.

Yes, Durable Solutions are located under the 3RP umbrella. Durable Solutions include the topics of return, and resettlement and complementary pathways.
